

MAD Education, in conjunction with the Fascial Manipulation Institute presents Fascial Manipulation Level 1b Hybrid Course

The Fascial Manipulation Level 1 course provides the basic principles of Fascial Manipulation. In this course, you will learn how to map our the myofascial system, enhancing your surface anatomy and ability to navigate the soft tissue system through the body. By learning the biomechanics of the fascial network, the clinician will understand its role in pain and dysfunction and build the skills to palpate changes to guide your clinical practice. With this combined knowledge, clinicians will be able to assess the fascial system and effectively treat myofascial pain and restore normal tissue mechanics. The course includes:

- Online lecture material to understand the anatomical and biomechanical basis of Fascial Manipulation
- Three days face to face to learn the practical components
- Live, online Q&A's to further enhance integration of the Fascial Manipulation method into clinical practice and to share case studies.

The course will be presented by Julie Ann Day, an Australian-Italian physiotherapist. Julie brings extensive experience and a wealth of knowledge in Fascial Manipulation, having began studying with Luigi since 1998 and teaching the method since 2003.
